Notes on a Meeting of Father ^{REDACTED} and Msgr. Loomis with Father Steve Hernandez

September 24, 1996
1:30 PM

Father ^{REDACTED} and I presented the concerns of the gay support group expressed by ^{REDACTED}
REDACTED

Father Hernández responded: ^{REDACTED} is under psychological care. He is committed to destroying the Missionaries.

- I can't accept that he thinks I am breaking confidence; he called me with his secrets! If he didn't trust me, how could he do that? The gifts I gave him were from old things in my closet. He became very dependent on me – he had a very hard family experience.
- He walked out of a meeting because two ex-^{REDACTED}s arrived – supposed lovers of REDACTED
- I never presented the group as a “cruising place.” I am familiar with “Bienstar” and referred those cruising there. They give out condoms so you can go out!
- The young man who is an escort is now in immigration detention.

I gave him money so he won't go on street.

I took him with me to help take care of Mom.

He has stayed over-night at the rectory in the downstairs guest room with REDACTED permission.

I took a picture – not nude; he asked for one for his...(Fr. did not finish the sentence.)

I think about him every night – how can I save him from this escort business?

- At the SCRC Conference -- In bed? Never! We shared a room, but no contact – different beds.
- Yes, people come upstairs in the rectory to talk – no privacy downstairs – he's been up to help me in many ways. I don't do it any more. I started to use the common room after ^{REDACTED} talked to me.

000649

- West Hollywood – I went once, they said, “Let us take you!” We went to “Circus” to show me what it was like. It was nice!
- I am totally for my “kids,” and I will do anything for them. They call me “abuelo” or “tata.”

I ‘m new to this. I’m learning.

Father ^{REDACTED} said, “How could you think a shattered young man like ^{REDACTED} could go upstairs to your room?” This ministry needs great care, real caution. When the two other ^{REDACTED} arrived – red flags! You should have thought, “Keep your distance!” The hustler in the group – in your room? Picture? Going somewhere together? How could you even think of doing that?

Father Steve -- Nobody explained rules and boundaries. I’m learning.

CONFIDENTIAL

MEMORANDUM

To: Cardinal Roger Mahony

From: Monsignor Richard Loomis RL

Date: Wednesday, September 25, 1996

Re: Father Stephen Hernandez

Your Eminence,

I am sorry this is so long, but I thought it should be detailed since it involves the Ministry to Gay and Lesbian Catholics.

Father ^{REDACTED} and I met with Father Hernandez yesterday afternoon. The president of one of the gay support groups had come forward with concerns about Father Hernandez, who acts their chaplain. He said

- that members had visited Father's rooms in the rectory,
- that, while the policy of the group is firmly against using the group as a dating service, Father has encouraged members to "get together,"
- that he had gone with members to West Hollywood,
- that several members had shared a hotel room with him at the SCRC Convention,
- that one member of the group is an "escort" and is claiming Father Hernandez had him pose for almost nude pictures and has stayed overnight with him,
- that Father is overly affectionate with some members.

There were no allegations of specifically sexual activity. The president said he was presenting the concerns of five or six members, including his own personal experiences. He primary concerns were for

1. the integrity of their own group,
2. the good of Father ^{REDACTED}'s ministry and Church,
3. and the good of Father Hernandez.

When presented with these things, Father Hernandez made credible explanations of most and insisted on no sexual wrongdoing. However, his explanations showed very bad judgment on his part in that

1. he had indeed shared a room with members at the SCRC Convention;

CONFIDENTIAL

- 2. he did know the one young man was an escort but was working to get him out of that situation; he had indeed taken a picture of him but a head shot, not posing and not almost nude; this same young man had spent the night in the rectory guest room (downstairs) with Father^{REDACTED}'s permission,
- 3. he used to have members up to his room in the rectory to talk because there was no private place to meet with them at Saint Camillus; he stopped this practice when Father^{REDACTED} objected;
- 4. he went to West Hollywood "once" with some members who wanted to show him what it was like;
- 5. he completely denied encouraging members to "get together" or that he had been overly affectionate.

The situation is somewhat complicated by the fact that the president of the group is the same person who accused Father^{REDACTED} of wrongdoing in their Novitiate.

Father^{REDACTED} and I both think (and told Father Hernandez) that, at the very least, he exercised very poor judgment. He did not take into account the sensitivity of the Ministry of Father^{REDACTED}'s office. He did not take into account the perceptions which might be created by his actions and what the media or press might make of it. He did not take into account the effect of his actions on the people in the group who had become more and more distressed by what they perceived.

Father Hernandez apologized and said that he was new to this ministry and had had no idea he was crossing boundaries (which I find hard to accept taking into account his age and past experience in school work).

yes!

In the meeting, Father^{REDACTED} told Father Hernandez that he was no longer chaplain to the group at Saint Camillus. The need to safeguard the Archdiocese and yourself made such action necessary. With your approval, I would like Father Hernandez to attend an educational group on boundary issues that Father^{REDACTED} started with Sister^{REDACTED} at Saint John's Seminary. It is primarily educational, but Sister will be able to give us an assessment if she believes further evaluation or therapy are warranted or would benefit someone of Father Hernandez's age.

Lastly, I am very impressed by the manner in which Father^{REDACTED} dealt with this situation. He involved the Vicar's Office immediately, encouraged the young man to be open with me in presenting the group's concerns and collaborated on a solution throughout the entire process. I think we avoided a greater problem through his quick action. indeed!

Thanks!

On September 24, 1996 Msgr. Richard Loomis and I met with Fr. Stephen Hernandez regarding certain complaints from some members of the Emaus community. In the course of our conversation, it became clear to us that Fr. Hernandez exceeded certain boundaries on several occasions and made some judgments that are imprudent and inappropriate. Unfortunately such actions create suspicions and rumors inconsistent with official ministry with gay Catholics. I was left with no alternative but to ask Fr. Hernandez to resign from any further ministry to Emaus. I felt obliged to inform you of my decision. If you have any concerns or questions, please call me or Msgr. Loomis.

RE: Father Stephen Hernandez

Yesterday morning I asked Stephen if we could have a meeting in the afternoon at 4pm. One of the things I was going to discuss was your request for him to help on Sunday at the other parish. We had discussed it last week after you called me but I had suggested we think about it. My plan was to contact you after the meeting.

My hope for the meeting was to:

- talk through your request.
- talk through our Senior Priest agreement in light of the recent "incident" and other administrative needs.
- find out what was the situation around his surgery and our schedule
- let him know that our accountant, Dean REDACTED was going to help me understand the $1500+ bills of his doctors over the past six months that were not covered by insurance.
- work out a time for dinner as a priest house
- and I wanted to clarify the implications within the house of his not working with the Lesbian and Gay group

In the middle of the conversation, Stephen informed me that he had requested an immediate transfer. I was shocked. We had had a confrontation at the end of lunch regarding another chaplain but he said he had called early in the day. I asked why and he said he could not trust many of us on staff. He said he had spoken to you about this weeks ago and he was planning on moving ASAP. He said he had called in the morning and waiting for word from you. I asked when I was going to find out about this transfer. He remained silent. At that point the conversation ended. I suggested we might want to have a meeting with you to try to work things out—he said he would not agree to that. He was very angry that I wanted clarifying his ongoing conversations and "meeting" with members of the Spanish Gay and Lesbian group. He said I was like everybody else not believing him and listening to "allegations." "You are all the same..."

I was hoping things could work out. I am still open to talking but I do think his ongoing ministry here (or anywhere) needs to include some counseling on working with others and specifically with women. That is what our conversation in June with his doctor had involved along with the medical and early "incident".

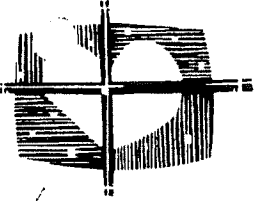

I am concerned for him. I am concerned about being here alone full time and REDACTED only part time. His commitment here has changed with the interim pastor "situation." I know that you have no priest to "go around". I would guess if Stephen is leaving soon I would work with REDACTED, so he could help with one addition night beeper coverage. I am already on four nights. I would hope—whatever happens—we might put out a request for priest to coming here for 2-3 year commitment. I would want to talk about your feelings on my speaking to religious communities.

I am sorry this is happening while you are so busy with other things....

Dear REDACTED

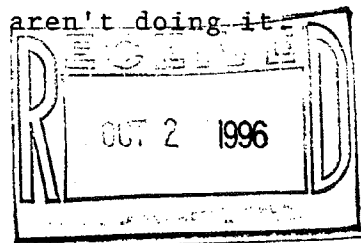

To begin this letter I must tell you that my meeting with you and REDACTED was devastating. It only added to what is going on in my life. I have three doctors on my tail right now: my general doctor who is putting me through many test right now, pushing me to see a urologist who has done some tests and wants to do some minor surgery very soon, and my neurologist who has me going through more tests and medication to keep me from having anymore seizures. Thank God they have gone away. But, now this. It is too heavy to carry. I have laid it all in the hands of God and our Blessed Mother.

I can assure you that every waking moment and it is now all most all the time, I can't believe what has happened. Therefore, I am writing you to ask if I can be moved from St. Camillus? It is too painful being here. I have always been a loner and I have to get somewhere by myself. I spoke to one of the Brothers at St. John of God regarding their apartments. He invited me to come and see them. I have been told by others that it is a very nice place. You can be part of a group or you can be by yourself. This is what I need. St Camillus is just too painful. It is not that far from my doctors and pharmacy. It is also freeway close to REDACTED .

I know that REDACTED will not be happy but it will mean that he will have to spend more time here in the hospital and less on his personal projects(as good as they are). But, again, it is too painful to be here, it is tearing me apart and it hurts.

I hope you can get back to me as soon as possible, aspirin and Pepto-Bismol aren't doing it.

yours,
Stephen

I want to thank you first for all you do for the Archdiocese but especially for the clergy. I can only image it is not only a thankless job but full of frustrations.

I hope the letter to Stephen is OK. It went through several drafts in my computer, to my spiritual director and back again. I feel very much used by him at this point. I do hope that he gets counseling before he goes on to something else.

I feel good about the match with ^{REDACTED} I wish we could put out the request to all the clergy before we finalize this deal. I have received news from the religious priest who was interested in coming here to help—his Provincial has said yes and he would be interested in coming in about 4 months. I will talk to him next week and then let you know who and what might happen.

I was not sure if you would be in during these days—I hope you are getting a break. I am sorry this is happening at this time—I felt Stephen forced the issue.

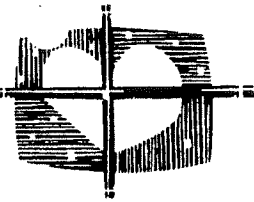

Peace and blessed New Years.

My understanding of your last week with us would be the following:

- Saturday December 28th 1pm-5pm
- Sunday December 29th 9am-5pm
- Monday December 30th Off
- Tuesday December 31th 9am-til Noon Mass—off for New Year's Eve
- Wednesday January 1st Off for holiday unless you tell me other wise*
- Thursday January 2nd 7:30am Mass until after lunch
- Friday January 3rd Off
- Saturday January 4th 1pm-5pm
- Sunday January 5th 9am-5pm

Please note that you had taken three days of vacation, all your 10 days of sick leave time plus an additional five weeks following the surgery.

I will plan on the January 13th week for cleaning the rooms.

I pray the concerns and issues we have brought up over the past years will be worked on in your counseling. I simply list them here but would be open to discussing them:

- your depression
- your lack of interaction with women in shared ministry
- your lack of visiting your mom
- your removal as Spiritual Director for the Gay and Lesbian Ministry
- your ongoing contacts with members of Emaus
- your removal from the Jail ward in context of rules/staff
- your refusal to anoint certain patients, such as on the burn ward
- your comments about the pain of "Irish" persons
- your lack of communication and trust with me and others on staff

I wish to inform you that Fr. Stephen has requested to leave our ministry. He will finish up his commitment here next Sunday January 5th. He has requested no farewell and due to his commitment at Juvenile hall he will not have a final mass. He asks that we not tell the hospital staff until after he leaves.

Dear Monsignor:

I have enclosed the requested third quarter Pension payment for Fr. Stephen Hernandez. I had not paid this because he left us so abruptly. In the middle of December he had told me of his discussion with you in October to retire immediately but that he would remain 'til February or March. He sat with me and set up the mass schedule into February. It was on December 26th that he told me he wished to leave on January 6th. He left me a note(enclosed) December 30th informing me he was leaving that night on vacation. I did not pay the quarterly since I thought he was in your hands the last day of the year.

I can only pray that he is getting support and help. I have been told by sisters who have seen him that he does not look like he is taking care of himself. I still am getting billing from all his doctor's in the last three months of the years. Doctors still call asking for him and I refer them to his new parish. They ask how he is doing and I simply say I have not seen the man since he left at the end of December.

He is still celebrating mass at Juvenile hall and when I asked about it I got a quick note from him.

I did not pay this since he walked out on us on December 30th. My real concern for him now is as a fellow priest of this Archdiocese.

Dear Father Hernandez:

Thank you very much for your recent letter, and I certainly understand your desire to retire early because of your medical situation.

As you know, this is an unusual and exceptional case, and given all of these special circumstances, I am agreeable to grant you early retirement. This means that the Archdiocese itself will have to meet your salary and retirement benefits until you reach the age of 65 years, and we are happy to do so.

Although you will be in residence at Our Lady of Guadalupe Parish in Rosehill, I would hope that you would make yourself available on a supply basis to the surrounding and neighboring parishes, insofar as your health and strength allow.

As is the policy of the Archdiocese, any involvement in any other pastoral or priestly ministries must be approved by the Vicar for the Clergy.

Asking the Lord's blessings upon you as you make this transition in your wonderful life and ministry here in the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, and with kindest personal regards, I am

Dear Steve:

I received a copy of the Cardinal's response to your request to retire. Father ^{REDACTED} will be in contact with you in the near future. As you may know, his ministry is to our retired priests.

The Archdiocese will continue your salary and benefits until age sixty-five, at which time the Pension Fund will take over. For a detailed understanding of your Pension benefits at that time, please contact the Pension Office.

In answer to your questions: You should submit the letter for payment to the Pension Plan to this office. We will make sure it gets paid. Also, this is the last such payment letter you will receive since you are now retired.

The automobile expenses for priests retired in a rectory are the responsibility of the parish of residence.

I hope this answers your questions. Please feel free to discuss any other points with REDACTED when he calls to see you.

RE: Reverend Stephen Hernandez
DATE: 15 April 2002

This morning, Sister^{REDACTED} informed me that on Saturday evening, LAPD detectives executed a search warrant at Our Lady of Guadalupe (Rosehill) searching the room of Father Hernandez. Apparently an inmate at Juvenile Hall accused Father Hernandez of misconduct.

Neither Father Hernandez nor Father^{REDACTED} had informed me of this on Saturday night or Sunday.

Upon hearing from Sister^{REDACTED} and in accord with our policy, I phoned the parish and asked for Father Hernandez, intending to remove him from the parish and ministry while the investigation was underway. He did not answer his phone and I left an urgent message with the secretary. I asked for Fr.^{REDACTED}, the Pastor. He was away from the parish. The secretary agreed to page him. Father^{REDACTED} called. He was out in the San Fernando Valley. Fr.^{REDACTED} mentioned that he had been informed Father Hernandez had missed his assigned celebration of Mass that morning. He was not slated to be away and his secretary said that his car was there. I informed Father^{REDACTED} that this was very troubling and I suspected a possible suicide attempt. I asked Father^{REDACTED} to have someone he trusted at the parish go to the room of Father Hernandez to check on him, and suggested Father^{REDACTED} return to the parish immediately. I gave him my cell phone number.

I am sorry that I must be the bearer of some difficult news for our parish. As some of you already know through reports in the media, a complaint about sexual misconduct with a minor was lodged with the civil authorities against Father Stephen Hernandez, who has been living here and assisting us in his retirement since 1997. We will continue to cooperate fully with the Los Angeles Police Department. I have no other information about the course of the police investigation at this time, other than to indicate that the alleged misconduct was not related to his ministry here at Our Lady of Guadalupe.

If any parents have any information to report that might assist the police in this investigation, please contact Captain REDACTED of the Juvenile Division of the LAPD at (213) REDACTED

In accord with Archdiocesan policy, Father Hernandez has been placed on temporary leave and will remain out of ministry until the charges are thoroughly investigated and the facts clarified.

I ask that you pray for the young person who has made this allegation, for Father Hernandez, and for the authorities of both our society and the Church that they may quickly and successfully uncover the truth. Finally, let me emphasize the commitment made by Cardinal Mahony in his recent pastoral letter to put the safety of our children first.

Suspect Ex-Priest Slits His Wrists

A retired priest living in the rectory at Our Lady of Guadalupe church in El Sereno apparently attempted suicide this week after learning that the Los Angeles Police Department was investigating him for alleged child abuse, authorities said.

Father Stephen Hernandez, 68, cut his wrists and took an overdose of pills, police said. The priest, who was found Monday morning, is listed in stable condition at an undisclosed hospital, police said.

"He is the subject of an ongoing investigation into sexual abuse of minors," said LAPD Capt. Sharyn Buck.

The investigation is one of several being conducted by the LAPD's Sexually Exploited Child Unit. Buck said investigators are examining about 50 reports of abuse from alleged victims or the Archdiocese of Los Angeles. Some reports involve the same individuals, she said.

Hernandez, who was ordained in 1982, tried to take his life after police investigators contacted him while checking a tip, sources said.

The pastor of the parish was unavailable for comment Wednesday. Archdiocesan officials said they were aware of the probe. "The LAPD is conducting an investigation and we are cooperating with authorities," said Tod Tamberg, a spokesman for the archdiocese.

Hernandez retired from the ministry in 1997 at Our Lady of Guadalupe on Mercury Avenue, but continued to work at the parish. The church also operates a school with 425 students in kindergarten through eighth grade.

Wash., vice president of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops and among church leaders at the Vatican next week, called Mahony's proposals the "most specific" he has seen.

The Roman Catholic Church faces sexual abuse allegations around the country. The accusations, some new and some years old, first surfaced in Boston earlier this year when it was revealed that a priest had molested more than 130 boys and was transferred from parish to parish.

Mahony insists that his archdiocese is cooperating with law enforcement authorities and that he has a "zero-tolerance" policy toward maintaining abusers in the church. He said he has turned over names of alleged abusive priests to the Los Angeles Police Department, and he is continually meeting with victims.

The LAPD has a special phone line for victims to report abuse by clergy, and detectives say they are receiving new tips nearly every day. The phone number is (213) 485-2883.

09/24/1996 Msgr. Loomis and Fr. REDACTED, Director of the Gay and Lesbian Ministry, met with Father Hernandez. The president of one of the gay support groups had come forward with concerns about Father, who acts as their chaplain. He said that the members had visited Father's rooms in the rectory; while the policy of the group is firmly against using the group as a dating service, Father has encouraged members to 'get together', that he had gone with members to West Hollywood, that several members had shared a hotel room with him at the SCRC Convention, that one member of the group is an 'escort' and is claiming Father had him posed for almost nude pictures and has stayed overnight with him, that Father is overly affectionate with some members. There were no allegations of specifically sexual activity. The President said he was presenting the concerns of five or six members, including his own personal experiences. When presented with the above, Father made credible explanations of most and insisted on no sexual wrongdoing. The Cardinal approved that Father attend an educational group on boundary issues. 09/30/1996 He wrote to the Vicar to inform him that the meeting he had with him and Father REDACTED was devastating to him. He requests permission to be moved from St. Camillus. 02/03/1997 Father is in 'Hospitality' at Our Lady of Guadalupe, Los Angeles (Mercury Ave.) REDACTED - Beeper 07/19/1997 He wrote to the Cardinal asking him for an early retirement due to his medical situation. 07/23/1997 Cardinal Mahony granted him early retirement. He will remain in residence at Our Lady of Guadalupe. The Cardinal has asked him to make himself available on a supply basis to the surrounding and neighboring parishes, insofar as his health and strength allow. His effective date of retirement will be 09/01/1997. The Archdiocese will continue to pay for the priests' retreat in Camarillo, and priests' assembly fee. Private phone # (213) REDACTED 04/15/2002 Excerpts from Msgr. Cox's memo to file: This morning, Sister REDACTED informed me that on Saturday evening, LAPD detectives executed a search warrant at Our Lady of Guadalupe (Rosehill) searching the room of Father Hernandez. Apparently, an inmate at Juvenile Hall accused Father Hernandez of misconduct. Neither Father Hernandez nor Father REDACTED Pastor, had informed me of this on Saturday night or Sunday. Upon hearing from Sister REDACTED and in accord with our policy, I phoned the parish and asked for Father Hernandez, intending to remove him from the parish and ministry while the investigation was underway. He did not answer his phone, and I left an urgent message with the secretary. I asked for Father REDACTED. He was away from the parish. The secretary agreed to page him. Father REDACTED called. He mentioned that he had been informed that Father Hernandez had missed his assigned celebration of Mass that morning. He was not slated to be away and his secretary said that his car was there. I informed Father REDACTED that this was very troubling, and I suspected a possible suicide attempt. I asked Father REDACTED to have someone he trusted at the parish go to the room of Father to check on him, and suggested Father REDACTED return to the parish immediately. I gave him my cell phone number. During the time I was celebrating the 12:05 Mass, Father REDACTED phoned and left a voice mail message. I phoned him back at 12:35. Indeed, Father Hernandez had made a suicide attempt by both taking medication and slitting his wrist. The police and paramedics had arrived. Father Hernandez was able to converse and his blood pressure was reasonable. He was taken to the hospital. Father REDACTED promised to keep me posted. 04/16/2002

Ex-Priest Facing Sex Charges

The 70-year-old cleric is suspected of molesting a teenage boy in Juvenile Hall. Probation official says he had no access.

By JEAN GUCCIONE
Times Staff Writer

A retired Roman Catholic priest surrendered to police Wednesday and was booked on charges that he sexually molested a 15-year-old boy at a Los Angeles County juvenile hall, authorities said.

Stephen Hernandez, 70, was booked on suspicion of child molestation and released on $240,000 bail.

He is the second priest facing criminal charges in L.A. County for allegedly abusing children sexually. The other, Michael Wempe, is in jail awaiting trial.

Hernandez's arrest comes a year after local prosecutors were forced to dismiss criminal cases against 10 priests and a seminarian when the U.S. Supreme Court struck down the 1994 California law allowing the retroactive prosecution of older sex crimes against children.

Hernandez is expected to be charged as early as today with as many as 12 counts of child molestation involving the incarcerated Eagle Rock youth in 2001.

"We are confident about our case," said Deputy Dist. Atty. William Hodgman, who leads the district attorney's sex crimes division. He declined to discuss details.

Although the case involves just one victim, Det. Jim Brown of the Los Angeles Police Department said authorities are trying to determine if other boys at the Eastlake Avenue facility or elsewhere were molested by Hernandez. Another person filed a civil lawsuit against the Archdiocese of Los Angeles in October, alleging that Hernandez molested him in 1984 and 1985 while he was a student at Santa Clara Father Stephen Hernandez in an undated photo from Archdiocese of Los Angeles 2002 Catholic Directory.

Catholic Church in Oxnard. Those earlier allegations are too old for prosecution but may be introduced in court.

Attorney Don Steier, who represents Hernandez, called the charges "bewildering." He said he doubted that a frail priest could use physical or spiritual intimidation to sexually abuse an incarcerated youth with gang associations.

"This is not your usual complaining witness-victim," he said, accusing the youth of being a "strapping gangbanger" and "streetwise kid."

But the boy's former criminal lawyer, Marc D. Wasserman, said his client is "by no means a hardened juvenile criminal." The boy was in Juvenile Hall for throwing bottles from a building with friends and hitting someone below, he said.

"He just had no chance or no choice in his life," Wasserman said of the youth, whose older brother belongs to a gang and who has been shot seven times by rival gang members.

"This was the only guy this kid had to turn to... and he just completely reeled him in" and took advantage of their relationship, Wasserman said.

The attorney alleged that after the boy's release, Hernandez touched him at his home and at the priest's residence at Our Lady of Guadalupe Church in El Sereno. The priest also took photos of the boys in various states of undress, Wasserman said.

Ken Kondo, a spokesman for the Los Angeles County Department of Probation, which runs the juvenile halls, said Hernandez "has no access to the facility." He said all volunteers, including priests, must go through "a thorough background check."

Tod Tamberg, a spokesman for the Los Angeles Archdiocese, said Hernandez was retired and his official assignment history does not indicate that he worked either as a chaplain or volunteer chaplain in juvenile hall. He said the archdiocese did not post Hernandez's bail.

Abuse of Young Inmate Alleged

Scandal: Teenager says he was molested by a priest who served as a counselor at Juvenile Hall. Cleric's attorney denies the accusation.

An El Sereno priest who is under investigation by Los Angeles police for sex abuse allegedly began molesting a teenager at Central Juvenile Hall, where the priest counseled incarcerated youngsters, according to the attorney for the teenager's family.

The alleged victim, 15, told a therapist in April that he had been molested by Father Stephen Hernandez several times since meeting the priest in 1998, said Marc D. Wasserman, the boy's attorney. The therapist notified police.

Hernandez, 68, attempted suicide by cutting his wrist and taking an overdose of pills after learning that the Los Angeles Police Department's sexually exploited child unit was investigating the allegations, police said. Hernandez is one of 34 priests under investigation by the unit.

Lt. Daniel Mulrenin said detectives investigated the allegations against Hernandez and forwarded the case to prosecutors for a decision on whether to file charges. "He did have access to youths in Juvenile Hall," Mulrenin said.

Donald Steier, the priest's attorney, said Hernandez did nothing wrong. Hernandez, who retired in 1997, could not be reached for comment. He was living at Our Lady of Guadalupe church in El Sereno.

Tod Tamberg, the Los Angeles archdiocese spokesman, said Hernandez was retired and his official assignment history does not indicate that he worked either as a chaplain or volunteer chaplain at Juvenile Hall.

"We cannot divulge any information because of the confidentiality of the minor," said Ken Kondo, a spokesman for the county Probation Department, which runs Juvenile Hall. He confirmed that the department knows about the police investigation.

Wasserman said Hernandez met the Eagle Rock youth at the county facility on Eastlake Avenue.

"My understanding, he was conducting church services inside central juvenile and he started seeing [the boy] on a weekly basis," Wasserman said.

The boy developed a close bond with the priest and eventually Hernandez became his godfather, Wasserman said. Some of the molestations allegedly occurred in the sleeping area of the hall, Wasserman said.

The attorney also alleged that after the youth's release, Hernandez touched him at the boy's home and at the priest's home at Our Lady of Guadalupe church.

The priest, he said, also took photographs of the teenager in various states of undress. A search warrant was served on the priest's residence after the boy was interviewed by Los Angeles police.

Wasserman said the teenager is back in the juvenile system because of criminal allegations. Wasserman declined to say why he is being held.

Los Angeles police said they are seeking any other possible victims. "We need people to come forward," Mulrenin said. An individual who comes forward may be able to corroborate another victim's account, he said. "That second account can be vital to a prosecution."

A retired priest living in the rectory at Our Lady of Guadalupe church in El Sereno apparently attempted suicide this week after learning that the Los Angeles Police Department was investigating him for alleged child abuse, authorities said.

Father Stephen Hernandez, 68, cut his wrists and took an overdose of pills, police said. The priest, who was found Monday morning, is listed in stable condition at an undisclosed hospital, police said.

"He is the subject of an ongoing investigation into sexual abuse of minors," said LAPD Capt. Sharyn Buck.

The investigation is one of several being conducted by the LAPD's Sexually Exploited Child Unit. Buck said investigators are examining about 50 reports of abuse from alleged victims or the Archdiocese of Los Angeles. Some reports involve the same individuals, she said.

Hernandez, who was ordained in 1982, tried to take his life after police investigators contacted him while checking a tip, sources said.

The pastor of the parish was unavailable for comment Wednesday. Archdiocesan officials said they were aware of the probe. "The LAPD is conducting an investigation and we are cooperating with authorities," said Tod Tamberg, a spokesman for the archdiocese.

Hernandez retired from the ministry in 1997 at Our Lady of Guadalupe on Mercury Avenue, but continued to work at the parish. The church also operates a school with 425 students in kindergarten through eighth grade.
